

Our Town

By J. B. White

The Father of Texas Waters with fingers sprawling into the uplifted lands of the vast Panhandle to draw red tides down to the sea in a mighty course across the face of an Empire, is to be harnessed at last.

Old Man River, the lazy flowing Brazos, for millions of years nature's great funnel through which has poured in periods of devastating floods, billions of acre feet of water to take in damage to soil and life an incalculable toll, is soon to inherit the special consideration of the greatest array of engineering plans ever made for a Texas stream by the Government of the United States. For its benefit to mankind under the restraint of orderly flow by a huge network of major and minor dams and a wide system of flood control reservoirs, the project now being urged becomes vital to every citizen of Texas.

Amazing both in magnitude and possibilities, it is worth the while of all men to consider this mammoth undertaking. To-day in Cameron a mass meeting is to be held, a part of an educational campaign to awaken Texas citizenship to opportunities that lie in the potential wealth of untouched natural resources.

It is unimportant that Milam county's share of the $50,000,000 cost will be approximately $1,800,000 in 20 years. This sum is paid in taxes to the state to be set aside to retire the federal loan along with 10 other Texas counties. The construction system provides halting reservoirs and dam sites on the water shed of Little River, the largest tributary of the Brazos, merging near the site of old Fort Nashville. The toll in soil destruction and crops has been enormous in Milam county. Our local needs are involved as an integral part of the great Brazos plan.

More than 20 reservoirs are to be constructed along Texas streams tributary to the Brazos in addition to the $30,000,000 to be spent on 12 major dams along the main stream and its tributaries. It is an engaging contemplation to note that some eight million acres of as rich and fertile land as may be found anywhere on the face of the earth will be reclaimed and protected by this project. In the upper arid reaches of the great river millions of acres of land now unproductive would be subject to irrigation and resultant crop yields.

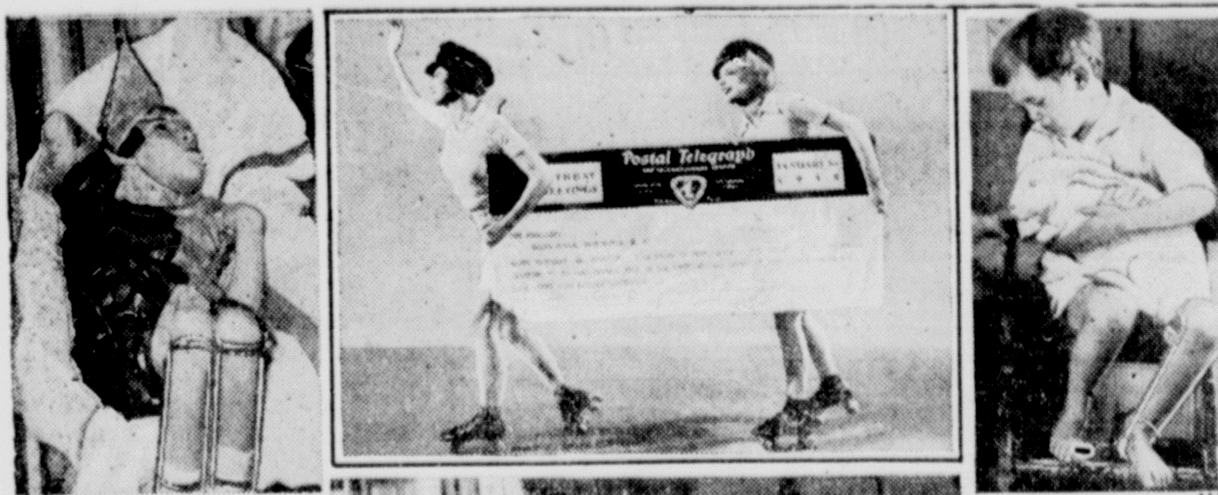

Let's look at this Father of Texas Waters whose mighty channel was the pride of the Red Men whose dreams were of nature and its bounties and not of an age of steel and concrete and hydro electric possibilities. The Brazos is 900 miles long. Its watershed embraces 44,600 square miles or a total of 28,000,000 acres, one sixth of the entire surface of the state. Within the influence of its waters lies an area greater than the state of Ohio where six million people live. More than 27 per cent of the population of Texas live within the watershed of the Mighty Brazos.

The Brazos act under which the state of Texas would borrow $50,000,000 from the federal government provides that the project would be self-liquidating. It creates a commission board of control with treaty making powers to dispose of advantages accruing under the arresting of flood and flow of the stream. At the main dam sites lie the prospect of vast hydro-electric possibilities with cheaper power for consuming millions and the resultant encouragement to industry. Irrigation possibilities are immeasurable. It is estimated 300,000,000 hours of electrical energy per day may be generated by the stored waters of the completed system. Storage dams to impound waters would be on Lampasas, Little, San Gabriel and Navasota Rivers, thus bringing into this immediate section direct benefits. It is proposed to construct the power dams first. They are to be located north and west of the Leon in Bell County.

Future sale of power would liquidate the debt. Power can be sold wholesale to public utilities or communities or retailed by the districts under their own management, it is pointed out. Engineers assert that power can be produced at a cost of

Cameron Prepares for Roosevelt Ball

With New England fishermen, western cowpunchers, northern lumberjacks and sedate metropolitan business men joining hands to stage Birthday Balls for the President in more than 5,600 cities and towns on January 30, the debutantes are doing their bit by turning messenger boys to help a million Americans say happy birthday to Mr. Roosevelt and thereby aid in the drive to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis.

In Cameron extensive preparations were under way with three distinct entertainments provided for the celebration. Of special interest at this time is the request of the President that 70 per cent of the proceeds be left in the localities where the entertainments are held, to be used in Child Welfare Work, Mrs. J. P. Love, general chairman, was receiving the co-operation of all civic organizations and committee members.

BAPTIST LEADERS TO TAYLOR FOR MEETING

Ray Duckworth and N. D. Timmerman of Cameron are in Taylor today to attend a meeting of the Executive Board of District 15 of Baptist associations.

The meeting is called for the purpose of electing a Missionary for the District which is composed of 11 counties and 9 associations.

Both Mr. Duckworth and Mr. Timmerman are members of the Board. Mr. Duckworth is on the nominating committee to select a Missionary. The district now has no missionary.

$20,000 Estate Will Ordered Probated

The estate of Eula Margaret Cobb, teacher, buried in Cameron this year, valued at $20,000 was ordered to probate by Judge Jeff T. Kemp in County Court Saturday.

The following were named administrators: Arthur Cobb, Mrs. Ada Cobb LaBarron, Fannie Cobb Monroe and Eula Cobb Crook.

BRAZOS PROJECT TO BE DISCUSSED HERE

Secretary Paden of the Chamber of Commerce was busy with arrangements for the mass meeting to be held at 2 p. m. today to discuss with the people the prospects of flood water control on the Brazos.

The meeting was announced several weeks ago. It is believed a good crowd would be present for the meeting called to stir public interest in the project.

5 mills per kilowatt hour at the high tension side of the transformer.

Reclamation, conservation of soils and a pleasure paradise are also involved in this vast undertaking. It is pointed out, when understood, challenges the imagination and men usually accomplish what they imagine.

WAR VETS CALLED TO BONUS MEETING

This is to give notice to all world war veterans in Milam county that a called meeting will be held in Legion Club Room in Cameron Monday night, January 28, 1935 at 8 o'clock.

The meeting is called with the co-operation of every Legion post in the county and will be a county-wide gathering of ex-service men.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss legislation now pending in the Congress of the United States proposing payment of the soldier's bonus. This legislation is of vital importance to all veterans.

Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 extends to each veteran a cordial invitation to attend this meeting and hear the bonus question discussed as now presented through bills pending in Congress.

Cameron Boys Win Fights In Boxing Tournament at State

Howard Terry, athlete and former big fullback on the Yoemen team, and now student at the University, won a three round tournament match Friday night against a Chicago heavyweight, Nick Frankovic.

It was the finals in the first annual University Golden Glove Boxing Tournament. According to Austin sport writers the heavyweight fight won by Terry captured the show. Terry is a candidate for center on the Varsity this year.

D. R. Blocker, former tackle on the Yoemen squad in 1930 and later a star on Greenville team, also won his match with Hardy Coven in the middleweight class. He is also a student at State.

Early Days In Cameron Recalled By Sam Hefley Who Came Here In 1879

"The new depot at Cameron is about finished in the place of the old one that burned December 6."

Early day settlers in Cameron reading in the Dallas News of last Sunday recalled with interest the old days when Cameron was a struggling village. The brief item above was printed in the "50 Years Ago" column of the News. It relates to the burning of the old Santa Fe Station erected along about 1881.

Mr. Hefley Talks

Former Representative Sam Hefley, now ill at his home, was among the number of early settlers who read this item with more than passing interest, because his early Texas days were so closely allied with events in the Eighties.

He has a rich store of memory

CHAIN GANG FOR DRUNKS

Visions of "Fugitive From a Georgia Chain Gang," were looming large on the horizon of the habitual offender in Milam county as the Commissioners Court prepared to institute the old penal system again.

The county's feed bill at the jail will be less, it is said. Prisoners will not be given jail sentences. Instead, they will be taken out to the gang to work on the public roads and thus pay the penalty to society that exacts its toll for outrage.

Road work for the county prisoners was at one time a vast penal system in Texas. It was discontinued years ago in Milam county. If enforced impartially, it is effective, but if applied to underprivileged of society it becomes a reproach to the government, it is pointed out.

The Grand Jury recommended that prisoners be worked. Unearned comfortable lodgings and free board are no more. It's the pick and shovel, the hammer and the hoe for the red nosed drunk and the crap shooting nigger.

The court hopes by this method of punishment to lessen crime, save money for the tax payers and stop habitual offenders who clutter up the court dockets and never pay.

Ray Robinson, efficient former deputy sheriff under Leonard Blaylock has been retained by the court to guard and work the convicts.

JURY RE-CONVENES

The Grand Jury after a recess last week, reconvened on Thursday morning to complete its work. J. D. Baskin is foreman of the jury.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR ROOSEVELT BALL

All arrangements have been made for three different entertainments on Wednesday, January 30, 1935, for sufferers from infantile paralysis in the United States and in particular in this county.

As you know the President has asked that 70 per cent of the proceeds stay in your own locality and 30 per cent go to the National cause. So we are taking this opportunity to help the sufferers of Milam county on this occasion.

There will be a Roosevelt Birthday Party at the Old Grammar School building, namely playing cards, dominoes, checkers and bingo.

At the Country Club you will be entertained by a Roosevelt Birthday Party, also playing cards, dominoes and W. C. Thompson and his orchestra. (See ROOSEVELT BALL on page 6)

DRY LEADER HOLDING REVIVAL IN CAMERON

Clad in overalls as he spoke on the "Unknown Worker," Hon. Wm. D. Upshaw, former Georgia Congressman and dry candidate of the Prohibition Party for the Presidency told an audience at the Court House Wednesday night "The man in Overalls has always been my hero. I wore overalls one time on the floor of Congress, even as I am wearing them tonight, to express my admiration for the man who toils with corn on his hands and sweat on his brow to make our comforts possible."

"Remember," said the speaker, "we could not ride in a car or a bus or a train and we wouldn't have any clothes to wear anywhere if it had not been for the heroic work of the man in overalls."

Mr. Upshaw then drew a graphic picture of the "unsung and uncrowned" (See DRY LEADER on page 6)

JOHN B. McLANE, 82, PIONEER BUSINESS MAN

John B. McLane, 82, who died at his home in Cameron on Friday night January 11, 1935, was for many years one of the leading business men of Central Texas and his career dating back to pioneer days in Cameron left its impress for progress upon the decades in which he lived and worked.

He died after a long period of declining health at his suburban home south of the city. He was born in Wilcox County, Alabama, in the village of Oak Hill in 1853 on the eve of the Civil War. As a young man he came to Cameron and was among the oldest citizens in point of residence in Cameron. He had lived in this city for 54 years.

He married Miss Fannie Brooks in Cameron. They lived in Hearne for a short time, then came back to Cameron more than a half century ago.

In the early days he was a large land owner, at one time owning the farm now property of R. L. Batte. He introduced rice planting and the plantation is known as the Rice Farm. He placed in cultivation a vast acreage in Little River bottom. Overflows were disastrous over a long period. He was at one time president of the First National Bank and established the lumber firm now known as Jeter Lumber Company.

He was a charter member of the First Presbyterian church and served (See JOHN B. McLANE on page 6)

Robbery Suspects Held In Waco Are Wanted In Milam

Good work by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy and Deputy Clarence McCall has resulted in clearing up five robberies have been definitely traced to cent holidays, one of them being at Milano and the other at Rockdale.

Two men are being held in Waco under charges and these local robberies have been definitely traced to them, Mr. Kennedy said.

MRS. TRACY IS INJURED

Mrs. Pat Tracy was gravely injured at the intersection of Maysfield road street and the new federal highway near city park Friday at noon when her car was crashed by a motorist leaving the city.

She is in a local hospital with a badly fractured hip and brain concussion and it is feared she has been permanently injured. Hopes are held for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy were on their way home for the lunch hour when their car was wrecked. G. B. Tracy, aged father of Pat Tracy, was on the rear seat. He was severely cut. Pat escaped uninjured. The car crashing the Tracy machine was driven by a Rockholts boy whose name was given as Hollis to City Marshal Gene Smith. With Hollis were several companions. None were injured, although both cars were badly wrecked.

Fear is expressed that unless precautions are taken at these intersections loss of life will result. No signs have yet been placed to denote danger and the highway is flanked by dangerous and almost impossible dips an antiquated building era type construction that should be eliminated, it is pointed out.

Damage Suit Won By Casey Against Santa Fe Railway

Settlement in the sum of approximately $6000 was made out of court here Tuesday when Joe Casey, father of Bobby Casey, gravely injured in a car wreck on the Santa Fe tracks east of Cameron in May 1934, accepted the railroad offer.

Bobby Casey, 14 and other companions were on their way to Sugar Loaf Mountain for a picnic. Their car struck the frame work of a steel bridge some feet east of the tracks on the Hanover road after crossing the rails. Bobby was the more severely injured. Billy Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Cooper, Chas. Roy Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Law, were also injured.

The case was settled shortly before it was to be called for trial in District Court.

Green & Boedeker Sale Continues To Draw Big Crowds

Continued merchandising advantages marked the big sale on at Green & Boedeker's store in Cameron.

From the big announcement last week grew another listing of lower prices for the week end. The big sale covering all departments of the store is a celebration sale to show appreciation for the patronage of the public. This big store opened in the Chambers building last June. Its growth has been phenomenal.

Newspaper advertising for which there is no substitute, has played a leading part in the success of this big store.

Leland Green, speaking of the sale said that he was more than gratified at the results and feels that the store is offering the greatest opportunities in recent years.

Ellis Restores Combination On Vault Door Here

After a lapse of 40 years the vault door at the entrance of the office of the county clerk is being used.

W. O. Ellis, of Belton, now in Cameron doing lock and key work, is responsible for the restoration of this combination lock.

The job was a difficult one, but Mr. Ellis says he doesn't mind at all the hard jobs. He has done lock and key work for years and considered one of the best in Texas.

Legislature at a Glance

By Senator Bob Poage

On Monday I introduced six bills, being Senate Bills Nos. 119 to 124, inclusive. They all relate to judicial procedure, and seek to simplify and expedite the trial of cases. I was joined in all six bills by Senators Davis, Westerfield, Burns and Shivers. These bills are the outgrowth of an effort to devise some practical method of trying civil cases under our Special Issue Law. As it is well known to everyone who has ever visited a court room, the Special Issue Law provided that cases shall be submitted to the jury on basis of fact formed by the difference between the parties. In this way, the jury passes simply upon the facts and the court renders judgment on these findings. The trouble has been that lawyers and litigants have too often submitted issues simply for the purpose of confusing the jury and it has become almost impossible to enter any case where dozens of issues are submitted without getting some kind of error into the record and causing a reversal. This is a tremendous expense to the people and an insupportable burden on the litigants. The demand for the repeal of the Special Issue Law has been very great, but it is generally admitted that the old general charge alone will not do. I have, therefore, in these bills sought to cut out a number of technicalities resulting in many of the reversals now had.

The first of the bills is an outright anti-technicality bill, and provides "that no judgment shall be reversed on appeal and a new trial ordered in any cause on the ground that the trial court has committed an error of law in the course of trial, unless the appellate court be of the opinion that the error complained of amounted to such denial of the rights of the appellant as was reasonably calculated to cause and probably did cause the rendition of an improper judgment in the case. . . . I know no reason why a case should be reversed because of an error which did not affect any one's rights, or change the result.

The second of the bills simply provides that the court shall not be required to submit an issue affirmatively that has once been fairly submitted negatively, and that the court shall not be required to define a word and term unless the party asking for the definition submit a proper definition to the court. At present it is common practice to require the court to submit the same issue both affirmatively and negatively, and to give numerous definitions of words and phrases all with the sole idea of confusing the court and jury and cause a reversal of the case.

The third bill provides that the findings of the jury shall be final, and that failure to submit an issue may not be complained of for the first time after the verdict.

The next two bills taken together, amend the long established rule of unanimity in jury verdicts in civil cases, and provide for a nine man verdict in the district court and five man verdict in the county and justice courts. This is in keeping with the present constitutional provisions and would unquestionably result in a substantial saving in our expenditures for judicial purposes. It would also prevent any possibility of placing sinkers on juries, and I do not think could have any dangerous effect. I see no reason why a three to one majority on a jury should not be sufficient when we allow a four to five decision for the Supreme Court of the United States.

The last bill provides that should there be a conflict in the findings of the jury on special issues, that the court should call the jury's attention thereto and send it back for further deliberation. At present a jury may bring in a verdict with conflicting answers and the court must accept it and discharge the jury, although he knows that it will necessitate a new trial with all its useless delay and expense, whereas, if he could send the jury back they could reconcile their feelings without any lost motion.

Taken together, these bills will, if passed, in my opinion go a long way toward speeding up our civil courts and making the administration of justice quicker, cheaper and surer.

Tuesday, January 15th at noon, 36-year old James V. Allred, advocate of a new deal for Texas, was sworn in as the state's 30th governor, Associate Justice William Pierson of the Supreme Court administered the oath of office to the incoming governor and to the new Lieutenant Governor, Walter F. Woodul of Houston. The colorful and impressive ceremony, which was performed at the front of the Capitol, was witnessed by many thousands of Texans.

At least 12,000 people crowded into Gregory Gymnasium shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night to pay their respects to the new Governor and his official family. The throng was entirely too large to allow all present to exchange personal greetings with those in the receiving line, so brief greetings were made via the microphone by the leading state officials and their wives, with Governor Allred as master of ceremonies. Allred's informal introduction of his wife as "and here's Jo Betsy" brought a spontaneous cheer from the crowd.

The new executive has referred to the Senate the appointments of Grady C. Mann of Dallas, Texas, as Secretary of State and Carl Nesbitt of Wood County, as Adjutant General. The Senate went into executive session and confirmed these two appointments.

Governor Allred delivered his initial message to a joint session of the Legislature Wednesday afternoon. The keynote of this address was co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the State government. The Governor proposed a working partnership with the Legislature, promising his full co-operation and assistance to the end of making Texas a better place in which to live and work. He requested the Legislature to issue the final $3,500,000 of the bond bonds at once and declared that no one was going hungry if he could help it. A State planning board to work with state and federal agencies in supervising the long range recovery program was suggested. Governor Allred stated that an old pension plan was the "just, humane and inevitable" thing to enact and he advised a constitutional amendment as a legal basis of such a bill. Although Governor Allred is personally dry, in keeping with the Democratic party's platform, he favors immediate submission of the prohibition question to a vote of the people. He denies there is any chaos in oil industry. However, he advocates a committee in each house to study proration laws and states he favors federal legislation prohibiting the shipment of illegally produced oil in interstate commerce.

There has been no refusal to cooperate with the Governor, as some of the papers have been trying to find, and while there will, of course, be differences of opinion, there is a general willingness to cooperation in meeting problems of State recovery.

I offered an amendment to one of the East Texas Court Bills with the purpose of using some of our present judges and of saving the State the expense of new judges, but the Senate held the amendment out of order. I think East Texas should have more courts, but I do not think it is necessary for us to pay for more judges when we now have dozens of courts that cannot work for lack of litigation. I think the relief should come through intelligent use of existing facilities by transfer of courts to East Texas.

One of the most important acts of the Legislature to date, has been the passage of a concurrent resolution to put the bill remitting interest and penalties on delinquent taxes into immediate effect, rather than waiting until February 8th to accept such payments. I think this resolution is helpful to both tax payers and the taxing agency.

PETER'S RESTORATION

International Sunday School Lesson
for February 3, 1935

Golden Text:—"Lord thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee."—John 21:17.

(Lesson Text: John 21:11-19)

In our last lesson we left Peter in despair and tears, following his betrayal of Jesus in denying him three times. His downfall had been in such complete contrast to his boasted loyalty.

Early the same night he had said that if all men became offended in Jesus he would not even if it came to death he would not deny his Lord. Yet, within a few short hours, hanging around the court yard of the building in which Jesus was being tried, he had denied him three times, the last occasion being emphasized with positiveness and cursing.

Since then Jesus had been carried out to Golgotha and put to death by crucifixion. Where Peter was that day we do not know. Following the crucifixion the body of Jesus was placed in the tomb of Joseph Arimathea. Early the next morning a group of women found the sepulchre empty. Mary ran back to report the discovery to Peter and John. As it has been pointed out, it is significant that she knew, at least, where Peter could be found.

Of the two disciples, Peter, as usual, takes the initiative, reasserting his boldness and leadership. Although the younger man outran the older apostle, when they came to the tomb. John stood aside, allowing Peter to enter first. Then both saw that there was no body in the grave and John in his gospel writes that he believed.

Our lesson text tells of the appearances of Jesus to seven disciples on the shore of the Sea of Galilee. Some days have elapsed since the resurrection. While this is the seventh appearance of Jesus since that supreme event it is only the third to his disciples. The first time it was to the eleven on the evening of the day of resurrection. The second appearance was eight days later to the same group, with Thomas who was previously absent then on hand. So, the present appearance at the Sea of Galilee is the third appearance of Jesus to his apostles. All three are reported by John's gospel.

Three times Jesus asked Peter in regard to his love for him. At first, the word used by Jesus involved "the idea of affectionate reverence, prompt obedience, grateful recognition of benefits received." In his answer Peter employed a word indicating a personal, emotional love. Finally, in the third question, as said by R. C. Trench, Jesus "employs the word which alone will satisfy Peter, which alone expresses that personal affection with which his heart is full."

"Simon was thoroughly emptied of self, thoroughly broken down, and the love of Christ had done it," says Dr. George Reith. "It was well that all this should take place in the presence of the rest of the apostles. They too would feel humble in the humiliation of their representative self; they too would feel lifted up in their brother's lifting up; for the fall of one brother is the weakness of all. In thus restoring Simon Peter, the Lord was making the bond of brotherhood among the disciples which had been relaxed and strained through Peter's fall, strong and firm again."

We have a personal lesson from Peter's experience, as stated by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick: "Down beneath the things I do, God is looking also to see the things I am struggling to do. Down beneath the things I accomplish he is looking to see the masterful passion of my life; and

Early Garden Plot Yields Well For Club Member

Believing that the early bird catches the worm, Mrs. Ben Tally, yard demonstrator for the Bryant Station Club reported having lettuce, mustard, onions, English peas and turnips in her winter and spring garden.

In improving this tenant farm, 15 fruit trees, 36 foundation shrubs and 20 roses have been added this year aside from repairing and rebuilding fences surrounding the place.

"The family pantry has not been neglected in this scheme of improvement, as 161 containers of beef have been canned, 750 pounds of meat cured, 65 containers hominy and 24 gallons of lard have been added to the farm food supply this year," says Mrs. Talley.

thank God, the man who has truly committed his life to the Lord God and set the main stream of life Godwards, can go up before the throne with all his stumbling and mistakes and say, 'Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee.'

"A supposed loyalty to Christ has led institutionalized Christianity to be suspicious and intolerant of those who achieved new or unusual experiences with God, or discovered fresh sources of inspiration and power in Christ," says Harry C. Munro.

"Again and again the church has bled itself white of her most vigorous personalities and her most vital and creative spiritual forces by expelling as heretics those whose religious experience transcended or burst through traditional moulds. Denomination after denomination has been started involuntarily and unexpectedly to embody some fresh outpouring of God's spirit which institutionalized religion was unwilling to entertain."

"No Christian society exists in which Peter would be freely pardoned his offense," says W. J. Dawsib. "The best that could be hoped would be the infliction of humiliating penance, and a reluctant reinstatement in the apostleship after a long period of bitter ostracism. Yet who could venture to challenge the conduct of Jesus in these respects? Who would not find his opinion of Jesus tragically lowered, and his adoption practically destroyed, if some new and more authentic Gospel were discovered by which we learned that Jesus branded Simon Peter for his perfidity, and drove him out forever from the apostleship he had disgraced, denouncing him as a son of hell and a predestined citizen of the outer darkness?"

Club Worker Gives Formula For Curing Beef Like Pork

"Beef may be sugar cured just like pork," says Mrs. Baker, member of the Pleasant Retreat Home Demonstration Club.

In preparing the sugar curing mixture, Mrs. Baker says she uses 2 cups of salt, 1 cup of sugar, 1-2 T. salt petre, 1 T. red pepper and 1 T. black pepper. This mixture is put on the meat for two consecutive days. The meat is then thoroughly smoked just as for bacon.

The product tastes very much like the sugar cured ham, Mrs. Baker says.

HOLLYWOOD COMING TO CAMERON FEBRUARY 9th

CAMERON THEATRE GETS WORLD TOUR MOVIES STUDIO

Hollywood is coming to Cameron! Although that may sound like a broad statement, it is, save for perhaps slight exaggeration, the truth. For on Saturday, Feb. 9 the far-famed Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Traveling Motion Picture Studio will pay the Cameron Theatre a brief visit.

This traveling studio, which was designed and constructed to special specifications at a cost of $150,000, is literally a miniature Hollywood on wheels; what with its elaborate motion picture sound equipment, its cameras, and its expert crew of camera and sound men from the famous Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in California.

Facilities for both the talking and the projection of talking motion pictures are included aboard the studio, and realizing that the general public would be greatly interested in having an opportunity to inspect this equipment, it is announced that during the studio's visit here this will be permitted.

The studio, which is hauled by a gigantic trackless locomotive, truly is an amazing sight itself, is regarded as one of the most remarkable and noteworthy achievements in engineering yet attempted successfully by the resourceful mind of man. Everywhere the studio travels it is referred to as "The Eighth Wonder of the World."

Painted a colorful red, and tastefully trimmed in gold, the studio measures 70 feet long and 9 feet wide. Wherever it goes, it creates a terrific sensation, and since it began its tour of the country it has been visited and inspected by countless thousands everywhere.

Perhaps the feature of this traveling studio which has captured the most interest, if it is possible to designate one feature of this astounding phenomenon as being more outstanding than the others, is the ultra-modern projection booth, with its regulation Western Electric sound equipment, projection machines and one half by five and one half foot screen, one of the few rear projection screens in the country today.

The studio is designed so the public may pass through it to view the projection equipment at one end, and the sound recording studio at the other.

But there are so many astounding features to this marvelous contribution to the world of science, it is almost impossible to list them all. Sufficient to say, the Traveling Motion Picture Studio lives up to its reputation as "The Eighth Wonder of the World."

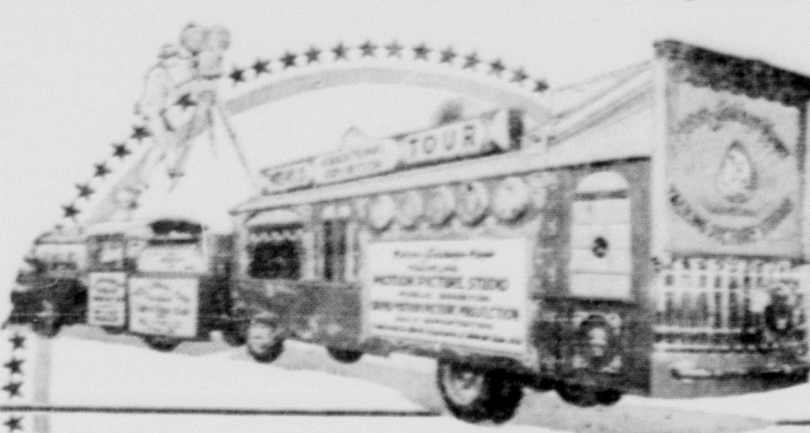

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company, largest motion picture producing organization in the world today, is sending this elaborate studio around the world, to visit virtually every city of importance in the United States and Europe where Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures are exhibited. And if it follows out this plan, the studio will visit many other countries, for there are few places on this globe where Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stars are not shown, known and admired.

And although this world tour is being undertaken at a terrific expense to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company, the ultimate purpose behind this vast undertaking is sufficiently worthwhile to fully compensate the company.

Not only will this traveling studio serve to enlighten the movie-going public with the secrets of motion picture projection and recording, but it is expected that this world tour will effect a consolidation with educational and industrial leaders, promoting the advance of visual education. And, at the same time, this traveling studio affords the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company a splendid medium of searching for new screen personalities for their film attractions.

Accompanying the studio on this world tour is a special camera car, fully equipped for Hearst Metrotone Newsreel work, and two special built

AUTOMATIC HOT WATER

Prevents Waste...Increases household efficiency!

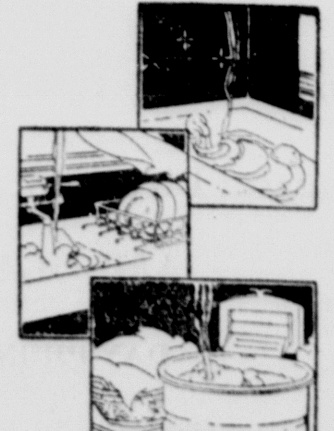

You aren't really living in this modern age if you still have to hand-light your water heater. The most up-to-date and thoroughly care-free way to insure abundant, clean hot water at any minute is a Gas Automatic Water Heater. No waiting then for water to heat if you want a quick bath or have dishwashing or laundry work to do!

A gas heater is the most efficient automatic hot water system you can own. Thermostat control prevents fuel waste. It uses only enough fuel to keep your hot water supply at just the temperature you prefer. Before spring cleaning gets under way, have installed this efficient helper.

Your Cheapest Method of Water Heating

Because of the low cost of your natural gas service, one of these modern automatic heaters is economical to operate. For instance, one will heat enough water for two hot baths at a cost of only 1 cent!

Your gas appliance dealer or your gas company has wide selections of modern gas appliances. See them. Remember, National Housing Act Loans take in these appliances.

MARLOW 4-H CLUB

(Deferred from last week)

The Marlow 4-H Club met January 4, 1935 at Marlow school house, with our agent Miss Strange and our sponsor, Mrs. W. V. Lake, present.

The house was called to order by our president, Clydell Walston. We had our ten minute program of songs led by our pep leader, Morine Krull. The roll was called by our secretary Gertie Krull and was answered with what we had done since the last meeting. The secretary then read the minutes, which were approved. The president then turned the meeting over to Miss Strange. She went over our year books with us so we could get acquainted with them. Then she told us what our goals were for this year. We then cut apron patterns and cut and fitted the aprons on the ones that had their material.

Miss Strange told us what we were to have in our sewing box. We are to have our aprons finished and our sewing box complete by next meeting. We adjourned to meet January 18th, with Miss Inez Lake. Miss Inez Lake, Reporter.

THERE'S A REAL TREAT AWAITING YOU—

If You Haven't Seen These Two New John Deere General Purpose Tractors . . . . .

We know what you'll say when you see them—just what everybody else says—that John Deere has set an entirely new standard for row-crop tractors with these outstanding new models.

The Model A General Purpose is a two-plow tractor for handling all types of work on the average-sized farm. It is a light-weight tractor with adjustable wheel tread; centered hitch in plowing; full-view, effortless vision in cultivating; easy, positive steering; platform and seat for standing or sitting; and four forward speeds.

The Model B General Purpose is for the lighter farm jobs. It is a smaller brother of the Model A—pulls a one-bottom plow, a two-row cultivator—the latest addition to the John Deere quality line of money-saving, two-cylinder, distillate-burning tractors.

Come in and see for yourself what remarkable values these new tractors offer you. One of the two sizes will fit your needs.

Personel Mention

Mrs. Laura Williamson and Mrs. Susie Sloan of Waco were visitors in Cameron Wednesday. Their many friends were happy to enjoy their visit in their former home town. While in the city Mrs. Williamson advanced the reading date on the Herald for another year, appreciating the interesting news matter carried each week in this newspaper.

From Washington comes a letter from O. H. Cross, Congressman for the 11th Texas District. Under the terms of the redistricting bill of last year Mr. Cross became congressman for Milam county January 1. He will read the Herald for the next two years, desiring to keep in touch with news developments in this county. Mr. Cross owns large farm interests near Cameron and at one time spent a great deal of his time on the farm prior to his election to Congress. He succeeded Tom Connally in the 11th district. Cameron and Milam county is home territory to him. He is one of the most influential members of the congress from Texas and is on the Brazos project committee with Senator Connally and Senator Sheppard.

Rev. K. Kacer of the Marak community was in the city this week and while here called to have his Herald advanced in date. He has been a reader for a number of years and enjoys the columns of this newspaper. He has been pastor of St. Cyril church at Marak for a number of years and is appreciated by the large membership of the Parish. The publishers appreciate his reader support.

Louis Raska of the Horned Frog Service Station is among the large number of old readers to renew again for 1935. He has been in the oil and gasoline business here for some time and enjoys reading the Herald. The station recently took on the agency for Star tires. Mr. Raska believes that business conditions will continue to improve and that 1935 will be a good year for all.

B. F. Bonds has been a reader of the Herald for many years and is among the large number to renew his subscription this week. Mr. Bonds enjoys a good patronage at his service station with Gulf products. He is a native of Milam county and has many friends over the county who will be glad to know that he is progressing. The publishers appreciate this continued reader support of Mr. Bonds.

Jesse Brock, agent for the Magnolia Petroleum Company in Cameron, is among the large number of Herald readers to renew for another two years. Mr. Brock has been with the Magnolia for a number of years and enjoys a wide patronage on these products. The publishers appreciate this reader support from Mr. Brock.

From Oscar Trojan at Ben Arnold comes a new name to our fast growing list. A new mailing galley has been arranged for the Ben Arnold list and the rural route out of that city, so numerous has become the Herald readers in that section. Mr. Trojan has the thanks of the publisher for this compliment to the Herald.

J. O. Hughes of Ad Hall, well known citizen and educator of the county, has chosen the Herald to read in 1935. The publishers appreciate this support from Mr. Hughes and trusts he may find much interest in these columns in 1935. He lives on his farm at Ad Hall and has for many years been superintendent of schools there.

Our good friend and reader J. J. Barrett of Yarrington was a business visitor in the city Saturday and called to have his Herald reading date extended to 1936. Mr. Barrett is the son of the late John Barrett, pioneer resident of this county and a former county commissioner. The Barrett family has been prominent in the affairs of the county for a long period of time. Mr. Barrett has the thanks of the publisher for this continued reader support.

Joe Hibner, a resident of Cameron is among the large number of old readers to renew for the Herald again for 1935. He has been a reader of this newspaper for a number of years and finds many things of interest each week in its columns. The publisher appreciates this continued reader support from Mr. Hibner.

Dr. W. R. Newton and Frank Newton were Austin visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Erskin, Mrs. A. Cook and Mrs. W. B. Richards of Bryan attended a meeting of the Eastern Star here Tuesday evening.

Miss Helen Williams of Southwestern University, was a week end guest of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. Coy Williams. She was accompanied by school mates, Misses Florence Wommack, Martha Fay Ramseur and Ernestine Ramey and Messrs. Kenneth Clover and James Bernard. They returned to school Tuesday morning.

Willie Hudson, teacher of Hanover, visited in Cameron Saturday.

Miss Leila Batte returned to Georgetown Tuesday where she reentered Southwestern University after being absent for several months, owing to recuperation from an attack of illness. She was taken there by her sister, Miss Mary Belle Batte, who is one of Milam county's teachers.

Miss Henriem Hefley, student in Southwestern University, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hefley.

Mrs. R. D. Brown is expecting her mother, Mrs. Floretta Hicklin, of Weatherford next Monday, who will spend some time here. Mrs. Hicklin has many friends in Cameron, her old home, who are pleased to welcome her return visits.

Miss Dorothy Evelyn Schiller of Caldwell has been added to the Cameron school faculty this week, taking the place of Miss Clementine Armstrong, who owing to ill health in the family, asked for a leave of absence. Miss Schiller is a graduate of C. I. A. Denton and majored in art. She is located in the home of Mrs. Tom Denson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fuller of North Elm have moved to town to make their home and are located in the Smith home west of the S. P. depot.

Three Kindred Materials:

Diamonds, Graphite, Coal
There is a strange and secret kinship between diamonds and graphite (used in lead pencils) and ordinary coal, declares a writer in the Washington Star.

All three may possibly have a common ancestry, though they come to very different ends. If you go back far enough you may trace the lineage of graphite and coal to those ancient trees which were cooked and changed by the pressure of hundreds of thousands of tons of rock. And whether or not diamonds are also products of tons of ancient chemistry, they, like graphite and coal, are pure carbon.

Just why the tremendous pressure changed some of these ancient plants into hard and brilliant diamonds, others into common black coal, and still others into a soft dark gray mineral admirably suited for writing, no one knows.

Graphite is much lighter than lead, with which it is ordinarily confused because both may easily be used for writing. But pure graphite is much too soft to be used in lead pencils unless it is first hardened by being mixed with powdered coal.

Unlike coal and diamonds, graphite is a form of carbon which does not easily burn, and when it is mixed with clay it is used in making dishes and bowls which are heat-resisting. Its two other chief uses are in lubricants and paints.

The so-called "lead" in a lead pencil is much more nearly related, chemically, to the wood that encases it, than to the metal by whose name it is so often mistakenly called. Like the wood that holds it, graphite is a plant material, though the centuries of rock pressure have changed its form beyond easy recognition.

Thousands of Indians in Country Ahead of Whites

It is estimated that there were upwards of 1,000 Indian tribes at the time of the discovery of America, and the number of Indians has been estimated at more than a million.

The land lying both north and south of the Great Lakes, from the Mississippi to the Atlantic, was inhabited by the Algonquians, including the Delawares and the Mohicans. The Iroquois, comprising the six nations of Mohawks, Oneidas, Cayugas, Senecas, Onondagas and Tuscaroras, inhabited what is now New York state and southern Ontario. South of the Algonquians, from the Carolinas to Texas and Arkansas, were the Creeks, Choctaws, Chickasaws and Seminoles.

The Indians of the great plains included the Crees, Chippewas and Ojibwas in the Northeast, the Omahas and Wichitas in the East and the Sioux, Assiniboins and Dakotahs in the Center. Among the Pueblo Indians of the Southwest were the Apaches and Navajos.

The California Indians or Diggers included the Washos, Yumans and Maidu. In the Northwest and British Columbia were the Bannocks, Snakes and Flatheads. In the North Pacific area were the Bellacoolas and Chinooks.—Detroit News.

Robin Hood

Robin Hood, the chivalrous outlaw and robber of medieval England, the best and most complete portrait of whom is that which was painted by Sir Walter Scott in Ivanhoe, where he appears under the name Locksley, is the central figure of so many ballads among English speaking peoples that it is difficult to picture him as one other than a character of real life, writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. Nevertheless, there exists not a shred of evidence to prove that he really existed. Historians are almost unanimous in agreeing with C. E. Clark, who, in his book, "More Mistakes We Make," states: "No antiquary that respects his cloth will admit that he ever lived outside his ballads."

Legs and Character

A girl's character can be read by looking at her legs, declares a director of musical and dance numbers for a Motion Picture producing concern. "Slender-legged girls are usually in different to romance, whereas chubby legs indicate an affectionate nature," contends this authority. "Sharp muscles in the legs indicate a cold, calculating, sometimes cruel nature. The more deviation there is from a customary walking position, the more eccentric the girl. If she is confident, her steps are free and forceful. If she is timid, her walk is uneven and self-conscious. Intelligent girls lift their feet high; while clever girls have rest less feet."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

WALK FROM RIVER ROCK

"Making our field stone walk was a real picnic," says Mrs. P. H. Strickler, yard co-operator for the Clarkson Home Demonstration Club. The flat rocks were dug from the river bottom along with the spreading of a picnic lunch placed level with the surface of the ground with each rock about 20 inches from center to center of the rocks. The walk is about 4 feet wide, Mrs. Strickler reports.

ROLL CALL SERVICE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

In spite of the unfavorable weather last Sunday morning, the auditorium of the Presbyterian church was filled to capacity for the annual Roll Call service of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The pastor and officers of the church were gratified at the splendid attendance given the unique service. Last year the percentage of attendance was high for the occasion. It is believed that 90 per cent of the resident membership would have been present, discounting the inclemency of the weather, on this occasion.

The membership of the church has been increased by the recent addition of eighteen new members. The church has enjoyed a steady growth in membership during the past five years. Through the services of the pastor, this church serves two home mission fields near Cameron. Hoyte and Marlow are the two churches served on Sunday afternoons. Fourteen additions to the membership of these churches on profession of faith were made in a recent meeting held by O. C. Acree.

At a meeting of the session of the Cameron church Sunday night it was decided to sponsor another field of service in the Mexican Presbyterian church which is to be organized here next Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Tomas Garza, pastor.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. J. Coy Williams gave a most instructive lecture using for her subject "Problems of the Child and the Teaching of Christianity in the Home." Mrs. Williams was assisted by Mrs. William Howard Baskin.

Next Monday at 3 o'clock circle 1 will meet with Mrs. Albert Triggs; circle 2 with Mrs. E. A. Perrin; circle 3 with Mrs. Bob Terry and circle 4 with Mrs. W. O. Triggs.

Tax Deputies Are Named By Bonds

Bill Alex Bonds, tax assessor and collector, has announced the following appointments as deputy tax assessors in the county:

Beat 1—Fred Matula, Cameron; Mr. Chapman, Ad Hall.

Beat 2—Earl Poole, Jones Prairie; Tom Linam, Maysfield.

Beat 3—Mr. Hirt, and Mr. Woods, Milano.

Beat 4—Claude Moses, and Jesse Eads, Rockdale.

Beat 5—Joe Petty, Sharp.

Beat 6—Clarence Rainey and Ivy Hill, Buckholts.

Beat 7—Chas. Mass, Burlington.

Beat 8—Connel Clement and Mr. Lockland, Thorndale.

STUDY WALLACE BOOK

"America Must Choose," a book by Herry A. Wallace, Secretary of agriculture, has been the subject of study for the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county for the month of January. Approximately fifty copies of the book have been distributed among the eighteen clubs. A growing interest in Agricultural conditions and problems is revealed as a result of this program. Other agricultural programs are being planned by the rural women of the county.

FEDERATED MISSIONARY SOCIETIES TO MEET

Federated Missionary Societies will hold their quarterly meeting on Tuesday afternoon January 29 at 3:30 o'clock in the Christian church. The devotional services will be held by Mrs. J. Coy Williams. Reports from the recent State meeting held in Houston will be given by Mrs. Will Ford and Mrs. J. P. Love. Members are urged to be present.

Only 14 Veterans of the Gray Left To Tell the Story

The line of gray soldiers who fought under Robert E. Lee for the South, is fast thinning. Only fourteen veterans of the Civil War now are left to tell the story.

Of this number in the county six live in the vicinity of Buckholts. Only one Confederate veteran now lives in Cameron. He is A. S. Moseley.

The following are the 14 veterans now living: J. B. Gregory, Alex S. Parker, A. J. Jackson, A. M. Camp, J. W. Ford, A. S. Moseley, John R. Bailey, M. C. McCleod, W. B. Turner, G. T. Bryant, J. L. Standford, J. R. Williams, John Hobson and William Persky.

Mrs. James L. Coleman and Mrs. C. W. Bradbury spent Wednesday in Waco.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

Early Days in Cameron

a Congressman named Ethridge in Tennessee. Sam was born in mountain of Eastern Tennessee. At the time he came to Cameron there were no bridges, no taxes for such conveniences and little or no government. Folks were honest and a man's word was his bond, he said.

Mr. Hefley III

Mr. Hefley, now ill at his home, tells interesting stories of early day Cameron. He is the pioneer of the motion picture business in Cameron, was mayor of the city from 1914 to 1916, eight years a member of the legislature from Milam county, inventor, developer of oil fields and in many ways his extraordinary personality and business acumen have touched the progress of Texas.

Friend of Yoakum

He was a personal friend of the late B. F. Yoakum, railroad magnate. At one time Mr. Yoakum controlled more rail lines than any man in the history of railroading. Mr. Hefley said that Mr. Yoakum was a good judge of men and proved it when he took Charles Elliott, then a conductor on the old San Antonio and Aransas Pass and made him president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

Santa First Railroad

The Santa Fe was the first rails to reach Cameron. Then came the San Antonio and Aransas Pass. At that time the rails stopped at Lott on the north and Giddings on the south. Mr. Hefley, 18 years old then, entered business and had a contract to supply the construction crews. His store was in the building now occupied by Chas. Smith Tailor Shop. Next door where the old Newport Cafe ran was the Milam County Bank, later to fail. In those days a man's business was divided between food and liquor, the latter being a necessary stock in trade. The construction work for grading the right of way was in the hands of Gurley, Ross & Gurley. Mr. Ross was a brother of Governor Ross. In the course of his dealings Mr. Hefley was to lose heavily. The construction firm broke and left him with $1500 of their time checks he had taken at his store. This left him unable to continue his business.

Had Opera House

Always resourceful he turned to other endeavors and at one time owned a large transfer business. He has traveled widely. One of the best remembered periods of early Cameron as he recalls it was the entertainment life that revolved about the old Opera House then a part of the Auditorium building.

Sixty years ago Cameron had one of the largest mercantile business firms in the state, Ackerman & Smith. It was located east of the square where the McLane Company now stands. The present site of the Herald Building was then accommodating a boarding and rooming house. There were two livery stables in what is now the heart of the business district. The old court house was a wooden structure.

Big Distillery

At one time there was a large whiskey distillery on the site of the Cameron Ice & Cold Storage Company. T. G. Sampson, another old time resident recalls the time when wagons drawn by oxen left Cameron with large cargoes of whiskey from this distillery. Another distillery was located in what is now the city park.

The Odd Fellows Building was a school and Mr. Hefley attended there as a boy. Cameron's first Baptist Church was on the site of the present fire station. It was a two story building with the upper story a Masonic Lodge. The first hospital in Cameron was in the residence now occupied by Henry Dakel and family. The oldest residence now standing as originally builded is the Dr. M. C. Sapp home, once the home of Judge Sam Streetman. Dr. Shaw operated the hospital. No acreage was in cultivation in the bottom lands and the road to Little River was through a dense forest.

Missed Opportunity

Cameron missed its greatest opportunity when the citizens failed to provide a building site for the Santa Fe shops. The railway company wanted to build their shops in Cameron. The Company wanted the land embraced by the city park and extending west to North Crockett Street. Failing to get this site the shops went to Temple and have been one of the largest contributing factory in Temple's progress. Cameron was an old settlement when Temple began.

Unusually resourceful, Mr. Hefley says he also overlooked a great opportunity. At one time he could have purchased any of the lands now in the heart of the Rio Grande Valley fruit section for $3 per acre with 30 years to pay. When this section was first offered people thought it a wild dream of real estate operators. Now it is perhaps the richest empire in the world outside the Valley of the Nile.

BUCKHOLTS

Mrs. Julius Cabron, Jr., of Burlington spent a few days of the past week here where she was a guest of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Zajicek and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raska and family were Temple visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis of Houston were week end guests of his sister, Mrs. J. A. Walschak and family.

Marvin Slovacek attended a fraternity dance in Austin Friday night and was a week end guest of friends while in the city.

Miss Viola Tarwater, Home Economics teacher, spent the week end in Lexington, where she visited her sister who teaches there.

Miss Genevieve Meyer of Fort Worth is visiting her father, John Meyer and family.

Mrs. Eva Adams of Denton was a business visitor in Buckholts and surrounding communities the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Harris were Temple visitors Thursday.

Mrs. F. V. Schiller spent a part of the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Kahler in Cameron.

J. C. Hyer, en route from New Orleans to his home in Roby, Texas, stopped for a week end visit with his brother, E. B. Hyer and family. Mrs. Arthur Kruse was a recent

Former Resident At Thorndale Dies In Essen, Germany

Prof. F. W. Heyer, aged 81 years, and a former resident of Thorndale, passed away at the home of his son, Ernest Heyer, in Essen, Germany on December 23rd, according to notice received here by Ernst Richter the first of the week.

Friedrich Wilhelm Heyer came to the United States from Germany in his early boyhood and taught school at Fredericksburg, Bushdale and Thorndale. He was principal and teacher of the Detmold school located several miles northwest of Thorndale for about 20 years, leaving Thorndale after resigning his school work in the year 1925 for his old home in guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goodwin.

Honoring their mother, Mrs. Martin Zawadzke's seventy-fourth birthday her children gave her a surprise birthday dinner on Sunday, Jan. 20, at her home near Buckholts. Only the children who lived near by were there due to the bad weather. Messrs. and Mesdames John, Frank and Joe Zawadzke and children and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Zawadzke were present, ther than these relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Walschak and family were guests for the celebration.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Goodwin during the week end were on Friday Arthur Duff of Seminole, Texas and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Barron McLerran and Miss Olene Williams of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McLerran of Cameron.

Mrs. Martin Rubac is ill at this writing.

Germany. Prof. Heyer was born of an aristocratic German family who were identified in high government circles, while he was highly educated and spoke five languages very fluently and was well posted on timely topics and governmental affairs. He was a leader and loved and highly respected by his friends and acquaintances, all of whom will learn with much regret of his demise. The deceased was born at Weneingrode, Germany. He was a member of the Detmold Lodge of Hermann Sons and acted as president of the fraternal order for many years during his residence in that community and at Thorndale.

Surviving this distinguished gentleman is his beloved and faithful wife, one son, Ernst Heyer and two grand children, all residents of Essen, Germany.

The Champion joined by a host of admiring and sorrowing friends of both Thorndale and Detmold community goes out in deep sympathy to the bereaved relatives in their sorrow over the passing of this noble gentleman and our dear friend.—Thorndale Champion.

GOOD CHEER CLUB

A delightful time was spent by the Good Cheer Bridge Club Friday afternoon when they met with Mrs. Roy Griffith. Spring roses added beauty and cheer to the party rooms where a number of merry games were played. Mrs. Hilry Stedman made highest score, with Mrs. H. E. Garner capturing second highest. The hostess served a salad course with hot coffee.

Mrs. Pope Sapp was a guest of the Club.

UTILITIES AND ADVERTISING

(From The United States Daily News)

Power and gas utilities have spent as high as $30,000,000 a year on advertising, the federal trade commission reports.

The commission seems to think there is something reprehensible, or at least suspicious, in that. But why should there be, necessarily? Gas and electric companies have service to sell and most local distributing companies also sell appliances. Considering the enormous volume of this business in the United States, $30,000,000 for advertising probably isn't such a disproportionate item as it might seem at first glance. Certainly, the utilities have as much right to advertise their service and merchandise as any other type of business.

But what mainly concerns the federal trade commission is the fear that large advertising expenditures are gaining the power and gas companies undue influence over newspapers and magazines. The report goes into considerable detail concerning that aspect of the matter. Apparently the commission is particularly alarmed over the amount of free space utilities manage to get in the newspapers.

It is true that the larger power and gas companies have their public licity departments; but so, for that matter, does every industry of any consequence. The mails are burdened every day with tons of publicity hopefully addressed to newspapers. Most of it is promptly consigned to the waste basket, but some finds its way into print.

The fact that any enterprise which comes into contact with the lives of a great many people is bound to originate legitimate news. Any editor who resolved to keep the paper's columns entirely free of news which might be construed as utilities propaganda would soon find his resolution colliding with the judgment of news values. Members of the federal trade commission should read the chapter on press agency in Stanley Walker's book "City Editor," wherein he tells us how the National Electric Light Association arranged the semi-centennial celebration of Edison's discovery of the incandescent light. The president of the United States, Henry Ford and other first-string dignitaries participated, but fundamentally it was a publicity stunt for the electric industry. Nevertheless, it was also news, and any newspaper that ignored it would have looked silly.

It would be foolish to deny that the domestic utilities lose no opportunity to put in a lick against public ownership; naturally, since their interest is opposed to public ownership. There are conditions under which anti-public ownership propaganda is a proper matter of official inquiry—as when it is intruded into the public schools under the guise of instruction. But fairness demands that those who oppose public ownership should be accorded the same opportunity to present their case as is accorded those who favor it. The facts fail completely to sustain the implication in the trade commission's report that liberal advertising expenditures are a factor in regimenting public opinion against public owner-

Farm Radio Program Subjects Are Given

Miss Bertha Fae Strange, county demonstration agent, has listed for publication the farm radio program from A. & M. College the last date being February 16.

These programs will come to listeners between 12:30 and 12:35 p. m. each date listed over WTAW. It was announced that arrangements would be made to have these programs come over KTRH, Houston and KTSA, San Antonio.

January 24—Hog and Hominy.—The Place of Pork and Cereals in the Diet—Miss Bennie Campbell.

January 26—The New Peanut Program—E. A. Miller.

February 14—Home Demonstration Goals for 1936—Miss Bess Edwards.

16—The Dairy Situation on Texas Farms—E. R. Eudaly.

ship. Ordinarily the reverse is true; a public official who makes a speech advocating public ownership can get columns of free newspaper space by virtue of his position where an advertising utility company is fortunate to get inches.

ROCKEFELLER'S OIL HOLDING

Washington.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., reports to the Securities Exchange Commission that he holds stocks valued at around two hundred forty-five million dollars in three oil companies. His holdings include 1,872,528 shares in the Standard Oil Company of California; 2,743,122 shares in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and 5,565,370 shares in the Socony Vacuum Company.

ROYAL COUPLE TO VISIT U. S.

London.—The Duke and Duchess of Kent, now in Munich enjoying a prolonged honeymoon after their recent wedding, will visit Florida in February. The couple will arrive at Port Everglades on February 18th and make shore excursions to Palm Beach and Miami while the liner is in port.

FARMER COLLECTS TOLL

Chicago.—Because officials failed to get a proper right of way deed Henry Ipena barricaded a new highway charging motorists ten cents each to use the road and a new $500,000 underpass. The farmer and his sons, with shotguns, stood guard over their property.

MOTHER! don't experiment with your Child's Cold

Rub on VICKS VAPORUB

Often, "mere colds" have serious consequences. It is dangerous to neglect a cold—equally dangerous to experiment with half-way measures.

Feel safe! Use Vicks VapoRub—the proved external method of treating colds. No risks of constant internal "dosing", which so often upsets delicate digestions and lowers resistance when most needed.

DOUBLE DIRECT ACTION

Just rubbed on at bedtime, VapoRub fights a cold direct—two ways at once—by stimulation and inhalation. This combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

25,000 Bees Take Over Train; Ouch!

Greenfield, Mass.—When 25,000 bees take possession of a railroad train—what then? That's what happened on a northbound passenger train when a shipping box containing bees broke open. The bees were consigned to Police Sergeant Franklin L. Woodard, all the way from the South, and Woodard is still looking for the greater part of the swarm.

DESPISED MONGREL PROVES SELF HERO

"Old Chuck" Turns Tables on His Detractors.

Hudson City, N. J.—Doubters doubted, scoffers scoffed, but old Chuck paid no attention, went along sniffing, became a hero to all at Hudson City, N. J. Old Chuck is a dog half resembling an Alredale, half resembling a sheepdog. "Old Chuck," claimed his owner, Max Hemple, "really has bloodhound in him, or the next thing to it." Onlookers winked, laughed.

Then one day a few weeks ago William Matorelli, a boy of Union City, disappeared. Searchers scanned the swamps, couldn't find him. Old Chuck got on the case. Doubters scoffed, scoffers doubted, but old Chuck paid no attention, plunged into the waste lands, found young Matorelli's body. "Just dog luck," was the general opinion.

A few days later Steve Lacy, thirty-nine, also of Union City, disappeared. For more than a day searchers sought but could not find him. Old Chuck got on the case, ignored the skeptics, soon came upon Lacy, almost dead, buried up to his shoulders in mud and water. Chuck ran home, guided rescuers, saved Lacy's life. Now old Chuck is a hero, the scoffers and doubters are his friends. Such is a dog's life.

The dog is often called man's best friend, has been immortalized (if dogs can be immortalized) in poetry, prose, picture. No one knows the exact origin of the genus, but a theory long held was that the animal was descended from two or more wild species, wolf, jackal, etc.; the newest theory is that the common wolf was the original ancestor. (Structure of the teeth of dogs and wolves is alike except for relative size.) Dogs are found all over the world; were known to the Egyptians 4,000 to 5,000 years ago. Thus the process of domestication to make the canine a household pet, a hunting or decorative adjunct, no doubt began at least in those days of the Pharaohs. The modern breeds of dogs run into hundreds of different types. Perhaps the one bearing the closest resemblance to the common ancestor is the Alsatian or police dog.

Miraculous Operation Gives Girl Hip-Socket

London.—Hailed as a miracle of modern surgery, an operation has been performed upon a seven-year-old girl, born without a hip socket, as the result of which she is now able to walk almost normally.

The child—Gwen Jenkins of West Croydon—was taken to the Victoria Hospital for Children nearly six years ago, when she was sixteen months old. For two years the child had her hips encased in a plaster cast. Then surgeons took a piece of bone from her sound hip and leg, fashioned it into a socket, and placed it in the crippled hip. For two more years the child was encased in a plaster cast, and last May the doctors decided to free the limb.

The operation was successful up to that point—the socket worked naturally, but it was not strong, so a daily course of massage and exercise was begun.

A short time ago the child was removed from bed and, leaning on the arms of her nurses, taught to walk a few unsteady steps at a time. Doctors in charge of her case say she will soon walk normally.

Skunk Waits in Vain for Cat Run Over by Motor

Lake Hopatcong, N. J.—This is a story of a polite skunk and his deathless love for a Persian cat. Patootie was the cat. She belonged to Dr. H. O. Bell, chief physician of the Essex County hospital, and she never went out much until she met the skunk. After that they took long walks together in the woods every night.

Several weeks ago Patootie was killed by an automobile. The skunk waited for her in vain that night.

Since that time he has been around Dr. Bell's home almost every night and recently he brought his mate. They keep the nightly vigil together now and never do any of the things that have given skunks bad reputations. But Patootie will never be back.

Kitten Has 26 Toes

Cleveland.—John Harris' kitten scarcely knows how to put its best foot forward, it has so many. It has seven toes on each of the front feet and six on both the rear ones. By all known biological rules pertaining to matters feline, it should have only five digits per foot.

Lays Checkered Eggs

Plainview, Texas.—A hen that lays checkered eggs is an unexplained oddity of T. H. Applewhite's chicken yard.

THE BELL SYSTEM AT A GLANCE

How a nation-wide telephone network is organized

The Bell System is big, but its organization is not complex.

The A. T. & T. is parent company, service and research organization, and financial headquarters of the System. It owns Western Electric, which buys and manufactures for the System at prices about a fourth below the prices of similar equipment in the competitive market. Jointly with Western, it owns Bell Laboratories, where science constantly seeks better and cheaper methods of giving you telephone service.

It owns more than 90 per cent of the voting stock of the 24 associated companies (of which the Southwestern Company is one) and it operates the long distance trunk lines linking the territories of these companies. Its staff carries on for these companies a constant search for more economical ways to give good telephone service.

Each part of the organization exists because the function it performs is essential to the job of giving good telephone service at fair cost to you.

A Job for Cameron

Cameron will probably never be as large as New York. As a manufacturing center there are cities that will always surpass it. As a pleasure resort for tired business men it may not appeal. Nevertheless, there is one field in which Cameron can be and should be supreme.There are living in Cameron some five thousand people. They have made it their home. Here they live, raise their families and have their being. Now, in all reason, the making of Cameron into the finest place for them to live is an object worthy of serious thought.Consider, if you will, the children of Cameron. They deserve the serious attention of adults. For them the older citizens should willingly plan great advantages, constantly improving the facilities of the town for their uses. Just as the greatest object in the life of the average man or woman is the care and proper development of children, for whom they would attempt much, so the greatest end in view for Cameron is to assist its citizens in life's endeavor.Why should we go crazy over size and industrial development? Is life composed alone of these features?
Can a town be great in no other manner? Surely, the development of a friendly, neighborly spirit and the prevalence of the helping hand to all worthy citizens is an object that merits our real endeavor.One Duty of Govern-mentsThe government has a positive duty to act always to protect general interests from selfish exploiters.
If it fails to enact such measures as may accomplish this purpose the injury to society generally will be more than the gain to the individuals affected.Suppose, for example, that a company builds a factory in a primitive forest, by a river. It ruthlessly cuts the forests and pollutes the stream,
but is building the section as it profits. This may be excusable but there comes time when the activities of the company will do untold harm to other settlers in the area and when its pollution of the waters of the river will interfere with the rights of others. At this point, it is the business of the government to step in and protect the public rights.It is not to be expected that those who own the company will surrender their privileges. In fact, they will yell loudly about the sacredness of property, the sanctity of contractsand the holiness of any law or constitutional provision that affirms their selfish course. They will revert to the wisdom of our forefathers, without telling you that our ancestors operated under different conditions. If their investment is in a foreign country they will talk about "reds" and "revolutionists," and of appropriating their property and suggest that the army and navy protect them.Wise people in the United States,
and some of them read this article,
will be on the lookout for such manifestations in the United States when Congress attempts to do some legislation in behalf of their average man and woman.What About the Gold Clause?The Supreme Court of the United States recently heard argument upon the validity of the Congressional action which abrogated the gold clause in many bonds and mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness.We have no way of knowing how the eminent Court will decide. At the same time let no one imagine that the people of this country intend to be ground to pieces, economically, by any such clause, regardless of contracts, valid or otherwise.We feel sure the Court will decide the question properly from a legal point of view and trust that broad social justice will have proper consideration, as well as the right of the people to act through its legislature to prevent an economic debacle and social disturbance on an alarming scale.A Trial Becomes a CircusThe trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the murder of the unfortunate Lindbergh heir approaches the stage of a national circus and reflected little credit upon American jurisprudence or the people of this country.We know very little about the case, not having read most of the testimony, but question the advantage of such widespread publicity.
Society has a man on trial for his life and that is no circus stunt to the accused, at least.In order not to be misunderstood may we express our own belief that the defendant seems to be the guilty man. Even so, it is unbecoming for the nation to make a holiday out of a tragedy that shocked the world and holds out such dire punishment for the individual accused.Civilization Astounds ConvictPity poor Benjamin Ullmo, who served a 26 year sentence on Devil's Island, far-famed French penal colony, and undoubtedly yearned in his prison for the opportunity to return to "civilization."The other day he went back to France and, after a short stay, voluntarily went back to Devil's Island.
He was disappointed with what he found and it might interest you to know this ex-convict thought about the modern world.He was "struck" most with "the spiritual collapse of the world and the decline in conscience and intelligence." That's hard criticism, coming from a convict. He was less impressed with "material progress"
and the lowering of moral standards
but astounded at the "immeasurable

Louisa's Letter

THRIFT DOES NOT MEAN
BEING STINGY

Dear Louisa:

Most middle age people advise the younger ones to be thrifty and save every penny for a rainy day, but I want to go on record as advising them to enjoy life as they go along.My husband and I were very ambitious when we were first married.
We both came from homes where there was never money enough for anything and we decided to save every penny until we were independently wealthy and could feel secure.But we ran the thrift program into the ground. I went without new clothes, cold cream, finger waves and my husband was just as careful in other ways.The result is that at forty five we are an old couple and although we have a fat bank account we are neither of us happy. Our married life has been one long term of doing without things. I think now that if we had allowed ourselves some of the pleasures of life as we went along
we would be more satisfied today,
even though we had less money.

JOAN SMITH.

stupidity" of present-day humanity which regards itself as "so superior."Readers of the Herald might think this over. It is possible that the man from Devil's Island is near the truth.

Advertising Gains

Advertising showed distinct gains in 1934, says Printer's Ink, which reports a 16 per cent gain over 1933.This will be good news to publishers everywhere. However, it indicates that business is better. Regardless of theory advertisers spend their money when the public is buying,
and when advertising budgets move upward it is sure indication that buying is increasing.The publication estimates that $700,000,000 was expended for advertising in 1934, with newspaper advertising amounting to more than $500,000,000.Press Can Criticize CourtsThe right of newspapers to comment upon and criticize the action,
opinions and judgments of courts,
has been upheld by the Supreme Court of Indiana in reversing the conviction of an editor for "indiscreet contempt of court."It seems that Don M. Nixon, now deceased, trenchantly assailed the appointment of a receiver for a bank while editing his newspaper, alleging that the judge had "insulted" the depositors in permitting an attorney to dictate the appointment.The Supreme Court did not, of course, approve his language but it did assert the right to criticism was of "primary importance to the public generally" and "has a salutary effect on courts and judges as well."
The opinion pointed out that courts and judges are not, and should not be, above criticism and so long as their functions are not impeded,
there is no right to enforce a contempt proceeding.

My Dear Mrs. Smith:

You are absolutely right in saying that you have been too thrifty.Thrift carried to an extreme defeats
the very end it sets out to achieve.
You and your husband were striving for independence and security so that you could enjoy life and be happy. But you turned a virtue into a vice by becoming miserly. Instead of putting aside a part of your income you tried to save it all.However, you are still young and if you can rid yourself of the pennypinching habit there may be many years of enjoyment before you both.Go to a good beauty salon, get a facial and a permanent, invite some of your friends to small dinners,
get your husband to join the country club, go to a good movie, occasionally, take interesting trips. Meeting new people and going to new places will broaden your outlook and you will discover that the world is still a very pleasant place, even though you are no longer very young.

LOUISA.

Reward Efficiency

Efficient government is necessary in the United States if our system of government is to establish itself.
Most of the people of Milam county
take it for granted that the American form of government has succeeded beyond mischance. In that assumption they are vastly in error.The federal republic, as we know it, is a baby government in age.
Other peoples of the world watch its course in order to see its fruits. Apparently, it is full of good, because Americans enjoy great prosperity and liberty but, on the other hand, ask some, if this is not due to the great resources of nature which abound in the United States?The fundamental principle upon which rests the American theory of government is that officers and officials will serve the public. That some of them earnestly strive to do this to the best of their ability is not doubted, but that others feather their nests, and look out for their friends, is also not to be doubted.The above observation does not apply to the federal government alone. It is a fact in Milam county as well. When the people see in this city and county that they have in office men who are faithful to their official trusts they should appreciate the fact. On the other hand, when they see a man holding public office, who disregards the rights of all except those who help him, they should be equally as emphatic in kicking him out.We make no attempt here to apply these observations to anybody, as this is the duty of the individual citizen. He should exercise the privileges that go with his citizenship and do his part in keeping good men in office and bad men out.About Tooting Our HornsA brother editor, talking to us the other day, told us that we did not toot our own horn enough. He said that the public, especially the adver-tising merchant liked to see in the local paper many editorials on the subject of trade-at-home, that it would be to our own interest to brag
a little more and to cry out, always,
and regularly, how good the Herald is, as a reading journal and as an advertising medium.We are inclined to think that perhaps our friend may be right, but,
as always, there are two sides to every question. The people of Cameron know how good a paper this is.
The merchants know that advertising in our columns pay. The citizens in Cameron have known for a long time that we believe in trading at home, where the dollars will circulate among us all, and finally come back home to roost.There is no such thing as doing too much horn-blowing. There is such a thing as a newspaper making a monkey out of itself in always talking about itself, or in persistently, parrot-like repeating, "trade at home."
The job is not performed when the Herald prints something on the subject. There are many people who become suspicious when the obvious is monotonously repeated. The buildingup of the trade in this community is dependent upon cooperative work on the part of merchants, buyers and press. Let us all do our part, conscientiously and with set purpose, and in good time, even the doubters will begin to think and see where the land lies.

that of human beings through finger

Doctors Know!

... and they use liquid laxativesYou'd use a liquid, too, if you knew how much better it makes you feel.
A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.Just ask your own doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The

Being About People and Things In Cameron

C. N. Fokes, 77, a native of Milam County, was born at San Gabriel. He has returned to his home in San Marcos after a holiday visit with his daughter, Mrs. Leo Wilkerson. The Fokes home at San Gabriel is on a grant of land from the Mexican government to Mrs. Abigale Fokes, his grandmother. His grandfather, John Fokes, lost his life on the way up from Florida. He was a native of England. The family landed in San Augustine, Florida and there heard about Texas and the new land beyond the Sabine. The Fokes farm at San Gabriel was settled in 1835. Mrs. Abigale Fokes and her son, Charles Fokes, who was the father of C. N. Fokes, lie buried in the Locklin Cemetery. Mr. Fokes has spent 45 years of his 77 years in Milam county. His forebears were English and among the prized family legacies is their old English Coat of Arms. He saw the cattle industry lead the state on its romantic course of progress. From Round Rock in Williamson county he once drove a great herd up the Chisholm trail. Early in life he learned the folk music of the Southwest and became a master old time fiddler. Some of his best remembered visits here have to do with entertainments arranged by his daughter, Mrs. Wilkerson. He married Miss Zora Clark of San Gabriel. She was the daughter of the late Capt. Walter H. Clark. Thirty two years ago he moved to San Marcos.

George Mayo Newton is the youngest member of the Texas House. He was elected to the Legislature by the people of Milam County following his nomination in the Democratic primaries in July of 1934. George is a law student in the University of Texas and the second eldest son of Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron, well known surgeon. Two of the Newton children chose medicine to follow in the footsteps of their father. Miss Mary Newton is now a student in medical college. Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr., has completed his medical education and is now engaged in practice with offices in the First National Bank Building. George was so young he voted with exemption in the primaries because he became 21 after the poll tax assessment date. He is an athlete and likes to fight. He once went to San Antonio from the University, concealed his identity and beat a professional in six rounds. His major concern in the House will be education.

Dr. W. M. Brook, well known physician and surgeon, will soon go into a new field of practice. In association with Dr. Rollins he will operate a hospital in Lampassas. The hospital is now being completed. Dr. Brook is a graduate of the Baylor school of medicine and has been engaged in practice here for the past two years, as associate with Dr. J. L. Denson, with offices in the New Cameron Drug Co. He will specialize in surgery at the Lampassas hospital. His practice here has been successful to the point of the unusual and many will regret to know that he is leaving Cameron. The new situation is a major advancement. Dr. Brook is a young man and has had the advantage of the most modern medical schooling.

All men appreciate success in others and progress is always worthy of note. A little more than a year ago Green & Boedeker opened a grocery in Santa Fe Town. The use of newspaper advertising was considered indispensable by these young men. Their business prospered until to-day it is one of the largest of its kind in Central Texas. Last summer they opened in the Chambers building across from the Federal Building and into the firm came Leland Green, Sr., adding hardware and the Green Funeral Home. This business continues to grow. One of the major contributing factors to success has been newspaper advertising. They have made it pay. The city is proud of this healthy enterprise and congratulate Mr. Leland Green, Jr., Mr. Herman Boedeker, and Mr. Leland Green, Sr.

A new business firm for Cameron is to be the Wingfield Dry Goods Company. The Kriesman stock has been purchased and will be moved at once to the Kestenbaum building formerly occupied by the Triggs Dry Goods Co. The site is the old C. H. Yoe building. The building is being arranged for the stocks with a west entrance to supplant the north doors. The Wingfield brothers have been with the Cameron Fruit Company for a number of years and will continue with this house. The dry goods business will be under management.

E. H. Balhorn has taken a place with the Border States Grocery Co., in Rockdale. He has been with the Cameron Fruit Company for more than ten years. His new job is a promotion. Mr. Balhorn and Elwood Cammer have made Skeezix a popular entertainment center. He will continue to live in Cameron. He has many friends in the trade who will be glad to have this word of his progress.

fying said indebtedness, which on the date of the sale herein will amount to $14,234.58.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, the 5th day of February, A. D. 1935, between the hours of ten o'clock, A. M., and four o'clock P. M., I will sell said real estate at the door of the County Court House of Bell County, Texas, to the highest bidder for cash. Said real estate is situated in the Counties of Milam and Bell, State of Texas, and described as follows:

Being 355 acres of land out of the Goldsby Childers League out of the J. N. Arocha Grant, Pat. No. 149, Vol. No. 43, Abstract No. 1 (Bell County); Abstract No. 444 (Milam County) described as follows:

Jesse James Gets Vice Chairmanship Tax Committee

Representative Jesse James for the 65th Floterial District, was given an important post by Speaker Coke Stevenson of the Texas House when he was placed as Vice Chairman and member of the powerful committee on Revenue and Taxation.

For two successive terms Mr. James has been a member of this committee as vice chairman. In addition he is a member of the committee on Banks and Banking. The committee on Revenue and Taxation is the most important of the entire assignment of members and requires more time.

Mr. James is serving his second term. In his district are the counties of Milam, Burleson and Lee.

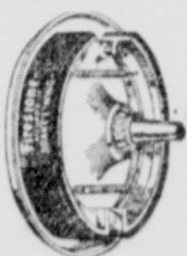

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hefley spent Tuesday afternoon in Temple.

Mrs. Loula Clinton and Mrs. W. B. Levy returned Monday morning from a visit in Houston. Mrs. Levy had been visiting there for about 2 weeks and Mrs. Clinton spent the week end.

THE HERALD

O. H. Cross Gives Data on Brazos River Project

BUCHANAN INTERVIEW TELLS ABOUT PLAN

Congressman O. H. Cross this week sent to the Herald readers an interview with Congressman Buchanan on the Brazos River Project.

Mr. Cross says that the entire Texas delegation and the two senators are backing the project and will sell it to the government for Texas. The interview follows:

Interview given out by Congressman Buchanan, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, January 14, 1935.

The consummation of the Brazos River Project is more important to Texas than any two other projects ever proposed. The Brazos River Water-shed, comprising as it does an area larger than the combined area of Virginia, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio equal to one-sixth of the area of the State of Texas. This water-shed was surveyed by the Texas Board of Water engineers in cooperation with the U. S. Geological survey, as a result tentative reservoir sites were located for twelve dams which if constructed will prevent devastating floods, furnish abundant water for irrigation in the semi-arid section of Texas and have industrial and municipal use, as well as produce an enormous supply of hydro-electric energy, from the proceeds from the sale of which when added to other proceeds from water for irrigation, municipal, industrial and other uses will make the project self-liquidating.

Prior to the assembling of Congress, I conferred with the President of the Brazos Convention and Reclamation District and advised him and others that they must supply us with full and complete data of number of dams, the estimated cost, the quantity of electrical energy to be produced, number of acres that would probably be irrigated, and the demand for all products of the District and total receipt therefor. It must be in sufficient amount together with the sum remitted in taxes by the State of Texas will make the project self-liquidating.

The people in the District must bear in mind that all the loans heretofore made by the Public Works Administration to political subdivisions of the state were not made until it was demonstrated that the projects themselves were self-liquidating, therefore, when I called together the Texas Delegation in Congress on the 8th of this month to select a steering committee to prosecute this project to a successful conclusion, I impressed upon the importance of complete data on every phase of the case and especially the self-liquidating phase, that this steering committee might be prepared to defend the project from attack from every angle. We have not yet received the data showing it to be self-liquidating.

Congressman Cross of Waco having been named first to represent the House, I suggest to him that he immediately take up with the District and the Board of Water Engineers the procurement of the above referred data.

Congressman Cross and Johnson were selected to represent the House. They are men of energy, ability and high standing with the Administration and both intensely interested in procuring the necessary money from the Federal Government to carry out the purposes of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District, in fact, every member of the Texas delegation are wholeheartedly in favor of it and their selection of Cross and Johnson by the Texas delegation was unanimous.

There seems to be people in Texas who think there will be or ought to be a bill introduced and passed through Congress specifically providing for and appropriating the money for the improvement of this district. This cannot be done at this session because the Administration has adopted a different policy in requesting four billion dollars for relief work and if approved by the President, the Brazos River Projects will procure its allotment to commence its improvements from this amount.

I sincerely trust that all those in authority will wholeheartedly co-operate for the success of this project, that strife and discord aroused by criticism will hereafter be avoided.

Mrs. Loula Clinton spent the week end in Houston with relatives, returning Monday morning.

Chain Store Tax Bill Introduced By Jesse James

A bill designed to tax chain grocery and certain retail stores in Texas has been introduced in the House by Representative Jesse James.

The bill aims to equalize burdens of taxation and give the local merchant a lift.

Chain store owners, corporations in or out of the state owning or controlling and operating or leasing stores will be required to pay in taxes the following schedule:

One store	$1.00
Two Stores	$6.00
Four and up to five stores	$25.00
Five and up to 10 stores	$50.00
Ten and up to 25 stores	$100.00
25 and up to 50	$200.00
Each Store above 50	$500.00

Each amount listed is the tax on each store so owned and operated by the syndicate chains.

Lumber yards, oil stations and the like are exempted under the terms of the bill. The main object of the bill is to tax chain groceries. Hundreds of such stores have been established in Texas in recent months. The price of merchandise has been lowered in all communities far below the profit line necessary for healthy retail trade, it is said. The chain stores are making their profits on distribution at the wholesale centers and factories by enormous control of production.

Mr. James is a member and vice chairman of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us at the time of the death of our loved ones. Although strangers here, we received every possible courtesy and attention, and our hearts were touched and comforted by this show of Christian fellowship and sympathy.

There were present Deputy Grand Matron of District 4, Mrs. M. M. Erskine of Bryan. During the evening Mrs. Erskine was presented with a beautiful corsage from the chapter. Following the program refreshments were served to the members, including guests mentioned, and Mr. Erskine, Mrs. A. Cook, Mrs. W. B. Richard of Bryan.

Mrs. F. B. Hubner will receive the Herald for another year at her address on route 1 out of the city. She was a visitor in Cameron last Saturday and while here renewed for another year. The publishers appreciate her reader support.

George Newton Gets Five Committee Assignments

Representative George Mayo Newton now serving his first term in the Texas Legislature drew from Speaker Coke Stevenson five important committee assignments.

He is vice chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking and with him on this committee is Representative Jesse James.

Other committees on which Mr. Newton has been placed are Public Health, Public Grounds and Building and the powerful committee on Education and Insurance.

As a new member of the House, these assignments are regarded as above consideration for first term representative. Mr. Newton was elected by a large majority in the elections of 1934.

George Newton of Austin spent the week end here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton.

J. W. Ford Veteran Civil War Visits In City Friday

J. W. Ford, 90, for eleven months a prisoner of the Union Army during the Civil War, now living at Buckholts, was in Cameron last Friday. He visited here with his son, Patterson Ford of Lampassas and grandson, Roy Ford.

J. W. Ford lives at Buckholts and is one of the 14 Confederate veterans left in the county. He was 90 on December 28, 1934. He fought under General Jubal A. Early in Company B, First Tennessee Cavalry, campaigning in Virginia. He was captured and sent to Camp Morton, Indiana, where he remained for eleven months. The prisoners almost starved. He weighed 82 pounds when released to return home after the war.

Mrs. Dan Hanna and small son, Danna, of Houston, have returned to their home after visiting in the home of Mrs. Lena Baskin for a few days.

Mrs. W. M. Fannin has returned from Belton where she visited with her daughter, Miss Myra Lee Fannin who was ill at the Mary-Hardin Baylor College. Miss Fannin is reported much improved.
